MILLIONS IN ARMY GRAFT CONSPIRACY UNCOVERED

Plot Release Of I. W. W. Prisoners In Fort Leavenworth—Wilson Refuses Senate Copies Of Peace Treaty

DETROIT, June 7.—An alleged conspiracy to defraud the government of $30,000,000 worth of munitions supplies has been uncovered by Department of Justice agents here, it became known today.

Indictment charges of conspiracy have been returned by the United States grand jury against Captain Sotarios Nicholson of Washington, connected with the ordnance department; Grant Hugh Browne, millionaire sportsman; Fred C. Collins, vice consul of Greece and president of a local realty company, and a United States army officer now in France, according to Arthur L. Barker, chief of the Detroit Bureau of Investigation of the Department of Justice.

PLOT TO RELEASE I. W. W.'S IN JAIL

CHICAGO, June 7.—Discovery of a plot to arm I. W. W. members and to release leaders of the I. W. W. now in jail by blowing up the federal prison at Fort Leavenworth was announced by government officials here today. The plot was unearthed through a letter seized in a recent raid on headquarters of the "reds" here. The letter, sent to a Chicago woman, outlined a plan by which high powered automobiles armed with machine guns would raid the prison, using dynamite if necessary to release the I. W. W. confined there.

TWO DIE IN FIRE ON BRITISH SHIP

NEW YORK, June 7.—A wireless message received here today said that the British freighter Reverend had been found disabled from its mid-Atlantic and is being towed to this port by the transport Weaver.

Two members of the crew lost their lives fighting the fire, the telegram said. Both were firemen.

The Reverend, a vessel of 10,000 tons, was on her way to Lough Swilly, Ireland, from Baton Rouge.

ARCHANGEL YANKS SAIL IN TWO WEEKS

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Official announcement was made today by General March that all of the original Archangel expedition will have sailed for home within two weeks. Companies E, G, I, M and the machine gun company of the 339th Infantry are now en route for Brest, having sailed from Archangel on June 3.

OVER TIME LIMIT ON $100,000 SUIT

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.—Mrs. Margaret Robbins' suit against Herbert E. Law, San Francisco millionaire, for $100,000 damages, charging him with drugging and attacking her in his San Mateo country home, was dismissed today by Superior Judge John Hunt.

Without leave to the plaintiff to amend the complaint, Judge Hunt sustained a demurrer presented by Ira S. Lillick, attorney for Law, contending that the statute of limitations acted as a bar to the suit. The date on which the complaint alleged the act occurred was October 21, 1916. Mrs. Robbins did not file the suit until April 2, last.

PREDICTS BRIDGE OF SHIPS OVER SEA

LONDON, June 7.—Commander J. H. Towers, skipper of the NC-3 and "Admiral" of the fleet of three American seaplanes which attempted a transatlantic flight, today predicted that a permanent bridge of boats would connect America and Europe within five years. These boats, he said, would serve as an aid both to aerial and aqueduct navigation.

It is to be hoped that Stan Wright gets that hat and shirt and pair of socks he is suing his ex-wife for, for such articles come high nowadays.

CHAUTAUQUA MEETING FOR MONDAY NIGHT

There will be a meeting of the Chautauqua committee tomorrow evening at the Lincoln Auditorium and it is especially desired that all members of the committee be present, and anybody else who may be interested in helping to make Richmond's first Chautauqua session a success.

Now, folks, wake up and take an interest in this matter, for it is really something mighty nice for our city and our people. It is a splendid education, as well as intensely interesting, and the best people all over America are now confirmed lovers and patrons of Chautauqua.

The extensive program arranged for the session here is one of great merit and will delight everybody who hears it. Some men and women of nation-wide, and even world-wide celebrity are to appear and lecture, sing and otherwise entertain, while the band that is with them is one of the best in the world.

Attend the meeting tomorrow evening and help the committee make this event one of the biggest that ever happened in Richmond.

Those bathing beauties sure did draw a crowd at the T. & D. last night. A lot of good deacons who had not been to a show for years were right up in the front row. Very sorry to see Lane, Long, Donnelly, Bacon, Hall, Clark and all that crowd there. What is this wicked world coming to?

GASABOO GEISERINGS

"Mexico for Mexicans" is now their slogan. Which Mexicans? Investigating committees find out a lot they already knew. Be glad you are not married to some that others are married to. Nothing to ride in but autos, and nothing to spend but money! Times are hard. Not over 8 out of 100 children can attend college. Eggs a nickel apiece and nothing for wear and tear on the hens. Poets and literati wear long hair because it is four-bits cheaper. Why do rabbits, flies, Japs and I. W. W.'s breed so rapidly? Paying a dollar to have one's fortune told doesn't increase the fortune. The meat trust wants to get more money than Carter has pills. A manicurist is for people too lazy to clean their own finger nails.

MERCHANTS' ASS'N BANQUET MONDAY

The Tivoli cafe will be the scene of a big banquet by the members of the Merchants' Association, which is to be held on Monday evening. This will take the place of the regular meeting of the association which was to be held Monday evening. A good attendance is desired as questions of importance will come before those present.

The committee on arrangements is made up of E. Forwick, C. S. Fenwick and L. L. Dearborn, and they are planning the details for the supper. Reservations for seats are going fast and those who wish to attend should see Secretary Dearborn for seats without delay. Otto Keller, of the Tivoli, is planning a special menu for the occasion.

There are eight or nine hundred people, or more, around town who take the S. F. Bulletin, and now, under the new combination plan, they can get the Richmond Daily News for only one month over what they are already paying for the Bulletin. And most of them are doing it. See large advertisement elsewhere in this paper.

ELKS STAG JINX A BIG SUCCESS

The Stag affair of the Elks in their club-rooms last night was one of the best events of its kind ever attempted by the local club. The club-rooms were filled with members and the program presented was a howling success. Ladies' Night was held at the Elks several weeks ago and last night the gentlemen turned the trick.

A fine party of entertainers were present to make the affair a lively one and it was a regular old-time stag jinx, those on the committee being A. M. Houser, Fred M. Lutz, J. A. Long, J. Greason, Chas. Desmond and Henry Schragg. One of the feature acts was that of the Rotary Club, while the Elks' jazz orchestra did good work themselves.

TO FLY FROM OHIO TO SAN FRANCISCO

CLEVELAND, June 7.—Captain Roy N. Francis, U. S. airplane pilot, today made the final test of the twin motor, 200 horsepower Martin bombing airplane with which he plans to fly from New York to San Francisco, making only one stop, and will endeavor to break the world's long distance non-stop flight record this month.

Sam Jenkins, for years postmaster of Richmond, has moved to Yuba City. He was at El Segundo for a while but his health broke down.

ENJOYING BIG BUILDING BOOM

Charles G. Bacon, of Richmond Abstract & Title Company, Declares Speculation Is Absent In Sales of Real Estate—Nine Out of Ten Lots Purchased Are For Immediate Building Purposes.

An era of building and construction is going on in this city, and Richmond is in the midst of one of the most prosperous building years since its beginning. In every tract, subdivision or section of the city there are many buildings springing up. In the business district many new and fine buildings are being erected. Modern, beautiful and artistic homes are going up in record breaking time, throughout Richmond.

In a recent interview with Chas. G. Bacon of the Richmond Abstract & Title Company, he stated the numerous sales of lots here are not located in any particular tract or subdivision, but in all of the tracts which have been laid out for improvements. The sales and transfers of lots extend from the Alameda-Contra Costa county line north to San Pablo and west to Point Richmond.

Mr. Bacon stated that these lots in nine out of ten cases are being bought for building purposes, very few being purchased for speculation. This shows that the people are realizing that it is best to live where they work, and not have to spend several hours each day in traveling to and from their homes. The great sale of lots reported and the hundreds of buildings being constructed, eclipses the land boom witnessed in this city during the early days and in 1911.

The title work done by the Richmond Abstract & Title Company has had a revision. Prior to this year the abstract offices issued abstracts of title, then limited certificates, and now unlimited certificates are issued. The limited certificates gave title of ownership from a certain date, while the unlimited certificates give title from the beginning for all times. This system of unlimited certificates has been adopted by all of the larger cities and gives clear title to the owner without any chance of come back through suit for title.

The financing for the many buildings has come from the banks of Richmond, which have always aided the builder in every way. The system of unlimited certificates of ownership is required by most of the banks throughout the country, although in Richmond it is possible for the builder to secure money for the building of a home whether he has an unlimited or limited certificate.

With Richmond coming to be a greater industrial center, the coming boom in business and the general reconstruction following the recent war, there will be many more hundreds of homes in this city, for the workers in Richmond industries are realizing that Richmond is the place for them to live.

SCOUT PERSHING FLIGHT REPORT

WASHINGTON, June 7.—War Department officials today scouted a report that General Pershing had asked for permission to be a passenger on the R-34, the British dirigible, on a transatlantic flight probably Monday.

NO PUBLICATION YET FOR TREATY

PARIS, June 7.—The American delegation to the peace conference apparently is firm in its decision not to authorize the publication of the German peace treaty until it is signed and not even to communicate the official text in its present form to the United States Senate.

THIS IS AN ENIGMATIST

Well, and Whom have we here? Why, this is an Enigmatist. He looks like an Ordinary Man, acts like an Ordinary Man and talks like an Ordinary Man, but he ain't no Ordinary Man, take it from us. An Enigmatist is a Man Who can afford an Automobile and hasn't got one.

ASTI VINEYARDS HAVE BEEN SOLD

Asti has been sold! That this great property, the best advertised and best known vineyard in California, has passed to other hands and will cease to exist as a wine-producing concern, is one of the stern evidences that bone-dry prohibition is near at hand.

It was founded by the so-called Swiss-Italian Company and was fostered during its infancy by such well known Latin Californians as Sbarbaro, D'Rossi, Fontana, Dr. De Vecchi and others. Due to their business talent, after a few ups and downs, the property became a steady money-maker and its output found its way to exclusive tables throughout the United States. Due to the artistic taste of the founders, Asti with its Pompeian court and stately structures became one of the show places of California.

It has long been an asset of the California Wine Association and its sale at a price covering the large value of the land, taking no account of hundreds of thousands of dollars in fixed improvements, is only another proof that the great corporation has definitely thrown up the sponge and is preparing for a speedy retirement.

MRS. ENSIGN WINS NEWS PRIZE CONTEST

Mrs. C. H. Ensign, of 647 South Eighteenth street, has been awarded the prize of the $5 W. S. S. for sending in the first correct answer to the News' "ad." reading contest which closed last week. A number of very good replies were turned in by contestants, but Mrs. Ensign's was the first having all the lines in the contest accounted for.

An essay of forty-five lines on Richmond appeared at the beginning of the contest several weeks ago. Later these lines were run one by one in the different display advertisements appearing daily until each line had reappeared in one of the ads. Then the contestants sent in complete lists of the lines, the dates on which they appeared and the ads they appeared in.

On account of lack of space the News will be unable to reprint the correct solution to the contest. Mrs. Ensign will be awarded the W. S. S. upon calling at the News office.

VESSEL SAVED OFF SAN DIEGO

SAN DIEGO, Cal., June 7.—The yawl Trojan, which yesterday was reported as probably lost in a storm off the Lower California coast, was reported safe last night in a message received here from Ensenada by George Bernaker, steamship agent. The message said the yawl had been picked up off Santa Catalina by the power schooner Alleana and that all aboard were safe.

SALOONMEN TO APPLY FOR REISSUANCE OF LICENSES

Quarterly Licenses Expire On July 1st and Requests Must Be In Hands Of City Council On Or Before June 21st

Although running on greatly depleted stocks, the Richmond saloonmen have apparently failed to give up the ship so far in spite of the probable enforcement of the war-time prohibition amendment to the constitution, which, unless repealed in Washington, will become a law on July 1.

All the local saloonmen last night announced their intention of applying for their regular quarterly licenses from the city council on July 1. Whether or not the city council will reissue the licenses depends entirely upon the action of Congress and the Senate. Unless those bodies take action to repeal the war-time prohibition measure, it will become a law.

Unless the measure is repealed all licenses in the country will be automatically invalidated. There appears to be little possibility that the saloons will continue to operate after July 1, however. Although President Wilson has taken a decided stand in favor of a repeal of the prohibition measure, a complete canvass of the majority members in both houses precludes any possibility of a repeal.

RICHMOND ELKS PLAY SAN LEANDRO

A game that's going to be a game will be played on the First street grounds this afternoon, when the San Leandro C. L. Best Tractor team will tangle with the Elks for supremacy, and everything else.

Both teams have been winning every game played this year, skinning them alive, as the saying goes. And both are just dying to get a wallop at one another, in an effort to find which is the best. Manager Wagner of the Tractors says his is the best, while Otto, just as stoutly maintains that the Elks are, and all of the local fans are behind him on that.

Schmiff, well known locally for his aggressiveness and fast ball, will be on the mound for the Tractors, and if he is pitching anywhere near the ball he is credited with, the Elks will sure have to go shrdl Elks will sure have to go some to Hollis, old reliable, will be on the mound for the Elks and he will see that the Tractors "pull off nothing that he thinks they should not. The lineup for this afternoon's game is:

Richmond Elks—Burs, rf; Smith, 2b; Hawks, cf; Tidell, lf; Autrey, 1b; Freine, 3b; Croll, ss; Schwake, c; Hollis, p; Clegg, c.

San Leandro—Clothier, 3b; Condoza, ss; Mathews, lf; Muleshy, cf; Waymire, 2b; Gomes, rf; Downing, 1b; Vargus, c; Schmiff, p.

The question centers about the demobilization of the army before July 1 to a pre-war time standpoint. If the supreme court decides the army has been demobilized to a sufficient extent it has the power to declare the amendment unconstitutional. Although trusting in some unforeseen circumstances arising to permit them to continue in business, the saloonmen are taking no chances on finding themselves with heavy stocks on hand on July 1.

Requests for reissuance of licenses for the next quarter are to be in the hands of the city council by June 21 at the latest. What action they will take is unknown at the present time.

Funeral Of Wm. A. Martin

George Gordon Walker, who passed away at the Affiliated College hospital in San Francisco Friday afternoon, will be buried tomorrow, funeral services to be held at 4 p. m. at the Smallwood-Murray undertaking parlors. Interment will be in Sunset View cemetery, Rev. D. W. Calfee officiating.

Walker was a well-known former resident of Richmond. He lived here for a number of years with his sons before moving to Santa Marguerita, where his wife and he spent the last year or so. Walker was engaged in the cattle business in San Luis Obispo until he was taken ill two months ago and after a series of operations he passed away. He is survived by three sons residing in Richmond, T. S. L. and D. C. Walker, H. B. Walker of Chickasha, Okla., and W. L. Walker of Wichita Falls, Tex., three daughters, Mrs. Mary Dignan of Clovis, N. M., Mrs. W. Hall of Clovis, N. M., Mrs. J. E. Devers of Mobile, Ala. He is also survived by three brothers: W. W. Walker of this city, S. W. Walker of San Saba, Tex., P. H. Walker of San Saba, Tex., and two sisters, Mrs. Lucy E. Doran of San Saba, Tex., and Mrs. Addie Williams of Plano, Tex.

Mrs. Meindersee Severely Injured

Mrs. A. J. Meindersee, of Pullman, wife of the Pullman foreman, is seriously ill in her home as a result of an accident last Wednesday when returning from a theatre she fell into a hole in the street. She is thought to be suffering an injury to the spine and is being treated by Drs. Holy and Abbott. Another examination is to take place today to determine the exact injury resulting to Mrs. Meindersee.

The Young Woman Who Supports Herself

should have a savings account. A spell of sickness or any emergency may cut off her income—and then the savings will prove a boon.

But aside from the bulwark it builds against the proverbial "rainy-day"—a bank account provides a safe place for one's surplus earnings and enables one the better to turn down the endless stream of get-rich quick "investments" that eddies and swirls about the man or woman with a few extra dollars.

A bank account is the surest investment you can make—the returns are certain—and the principal is absolutely safe.

SUNDAY MORNING CHATS

Well, here it is Sunday morning again, and as this is written a clear and starlit sky gives promise of a beautiful June Sabbath, a day of rest and recreation, with hundreds of thousands of people trundling along the boulevards out through the country in their automobiles, enjoying the sunshine, the fresh air and the beauties of nature. Seems like everybody ought to look out upon the world today with a smile and a cheerful and charitable spirit, though, of course, many don't do it, although they ought to. This scribe tries to, and generally makes it, although often frets and worries and business cares are many, as it is a strenuous time and a fellow has to go some nowadays to keep from being stepped on and squashed by the great big parade of progress.

One "Constant Reader" writes in the enquire how I can keep so happy and cheerful and optimistic when labor troubles and all sorts of other troubles are menacing the world and everything is all shot to pieces because of the late lamented war. Be philosophical, friend, and look at it from the other angle. There is no more menace in the world now than there ever was, and the only thing shot to pieces by the war was the European scenery, which will grow up again in due time. All that sort of thing is largely a state of mind, or at least brought about by a state of mind. Business affairs have been mixed and muddled by war conditions, as a matter of course, but they will all straighten out as soon as people find themselves, which they are already beginning to do. Business is good and getting better all the time and is going to keep on getting better for the next ten years before any material slump can reasonably be looked for, and maybe not then. Before the armistice was signed a number of big moneyed men got cold feet and hoarded their wealth, as is always the case in times of war, but they are crawling out of their cyclone cellars now more and more every day, as they cannot bear to miss the great profits now in sight. The two greatest cowards on earth are a hen-pecked husband and a man with a lot of money. This is also caused by a state of mind. He is afraid—afraid of shadows, afraid of his fellow man, afraid of God Almighty, and hugging his sordid wealth to his shriveled bosom he slinks into the shadows, leaving the battles to be fought by real men, men who have heart and soul, and mind, and brawn, who see other things than the stamp on the guinea.

The war is over, the terms of the peace treaty will be arranged amicably in time and so will the covenant of the League of Nations, after much chewing of the rag by politicians like Hiram Johnson, Knox, Borah and Penrose, who have palpitation of the mouth and polapsus of the mentality. Nobody on this side of the Atlantic has been hurt much and the outlook is fine. Cheer up! Cherries are ripe now in California and soon will be in many other places.

All the towns around this great San Francisco bay, including our own beloved Richmond, are building up something wonderful. You don't see a horse and buggy once a week—everybody has an automobile and is spinning around the country like meteors out on business. Motor boats are plunging through the bay; areoplanes are sailing overhead in the air; fast electric trains are whizzing millions, everywhere; ferries are churning the waters into foam, transporting more millions day and night from one bay city to another. Lots of folks take breakfast in Richmond, lunch in Oakland, dinner in San Francisco, and then telephone the wife to come to over and go to a show, and she goes. Every way you turn you have to lump like everything to keep out of the way of traffic and if you don't get a move on you will get run over. Everybody is in a hurry because they have lots to do. If they didn't have lots to do they wouldn't be in a hurry. Land has doubled in value and is going to double again. Crops are enormous and prices for them the biggest in history. Women are wearing new hats and new gowns slit up one side, and sometimes two sides, while the men wear motoring caps loud enough to hear 'em coming for blocks. Movie picture houses can't accommodate the crowds. Children have butter on one side of the bread and jam on the other, and there is meat in the dinner pails, and likewise pie. Get out of your rut and take a look at it all, see the country, enjoy the beautiful flowers, bite into the luscious fruit, breathe the invigorating air, expand your lungs and your mind, and thank God you are alive.

And above all, commence right now this fast big Sabbath morning and embrace the Brotherhood of Man doctrine, and be careful what else you embrace. It helps to dispel the glooms and clouds. As a man believes so will he be. The Lord is mighty good to all of us and too good to some. The trouble is we are mean to each other, and the sooner we get that selfish puss out of our systems the sooner will we be happy, contented and prosperous.

FIGHT MENACE OF ANARCHISM

American Workers Alive to the Danger Contained in "Red" Propaganda.

ONE FLAG, ONE LANGUAGE

No Possible Justification for Revolutionary Agitation in This Country—Partnership Between Labor and Capital the End to Be Sought.

(From Union Labor Advocate, Chicago.) Organized effort that has been carried on by the patriotic workmen of this country to overthrow the bolshevik and the I. W. W. element is one of the promising signs that American labor is becoming aroused to the menace of the red propaganda.

At this time, when there is so much unrest and belated disturbance going on in various parts of the world, we should do everything we can to uphold the one flag that stands for right, justice and liberty in the world. We have a right to be one flag, the American flag, and this excludes the red flag, which is a menace to the liberty and civilization, just as much as it is a menace to the flag of a nation to which we are hostile. We have no room for two languages here, and there is no English language, for we intend to see that the English language is the only one in America.

In a country with universal man suffrage, and soon to have universal woman suffrage, there can be no justification for revolutionary agitation, and those who induce it are prompted by ignorance or malevolence.

There should be a real partnership between labor and capital.

The energy of war is being put into the pursuits of peace. The country is fundamentally on a sound basis. There is a big demand for everything that we can manufacture and produce. There is ahead of us large business prosperity. We may hasten or retard its progress, depending upon our attitude. If we avail ourselves of the opportunities offered we will succeed. We must be resolute, fair-minded and confident. We must apply the spirit of co-operation whenever practicable. We must have faith in ourselves, in each other, and in our country.

National hates and prejudices, like all other hates and prejudices, are a menace to democracy. The world will not be safe for democracy until the people everywhere are free to be happy and useful while. The bonds that will safeguard democracy are the bonds of human sympathy and brotherhood.

This sort of thing is the cure for bolshevism, an argument which gets the better of all I. W. W. agitators.

After all, the matter of getting along in the world with each other is very nearly solved after we know each other's difficulties and how to help eradicate them. "A big employer of labor expresses it this way: "The greatest need we face today is that of understanding. We have had too much talk about 'masses' and 'classes,' and too little recognition of the truth that in the main all men are very much alike; that they are actuated pretty much alike by the desire to live and to get the joys that life should be made to provide. Mother Nature makes no two things exactly alike, and yet she sees it that the man with the hoe is little different from the man of wealth. If we but had a better appreciation of the other fellow's problems it would make for greater contentment and greater progress."

High Wages and Short Hours.

In making inquiries as to the demands by British labor for higher wages and less hours, a representative of the Christian Science Monitor learns that the masters in engineering and shipbuilding works are quite willing to grant higher wages and a shorter working day of six or eight hours if the workmen will be satisfied with a shorter day. It appears, however, that this is not what the workmen desire. They want a day of six and a half hours, at a normal rate of pay, and that the rest of the day, however long it is, should be paid for at overtime rate. The workmen's demands, therefore, really amount to this, that they want as much overtime as they can have. A managing director of a large concern stated he believed that the only way to bring the workmen to their senses was to show them that their extravagant demands would make it impossible to meet foreign competition, and if they were not more reasonable the only thing to do was to close down the works and let the men find out by experience that business does not operate for the benefit of one party, but must prove profitable to all concerned—the employers, the men, and the nation.

Wage Dispute in Shipyard.

Mr. J. J. Conaghan, managing director of the Coughlan Steel Shipbuilding plant, Vancouver, B. C., which employs over 2,500 men, gave evidence before the royal commission inquiring into the wage dispute between the company and the men. He declared that the firm's efforts to increase efficiency had met with only one success since the unionization of the yard. He believed this was partly due to the socialistic teachings which created among the men discontent with present conditions of life.

Compliments of congratulation are always kindly taken, and cost nothing but pen, ink, and paper. I consider them as draughts upon good breeding, where the exchange is always greatly in favor of the drawer.—Chesterfield.

SHOWS BIG WAGE INCREASE

Report of War Labor Board Tells of the Effect of Its Adjustment of Grievances.

Wage increases totaling more than $232,000,000 annually have been awarded workers by the war labor board. Approximately 2,000,000 workers who submitted their industrial grievances to the board share in this total. Hundreds of direct beneficiaries are women.

Indirect beneficiaries are estimated to number scores of millions of workers. They are workmen whose wages had to be raised and whose shop conditions had to be bettered because their employers had to bid for their service against employers whose workers were benefiting under the board's awards.

Awards of the board were administered in approximately 300 cities and towns.

IN THE FIELD OF LABOR

Garment workers in Cincinnati, O., have secured wage advances amounting to from $2 to $3 a week.

Firmen employed on Swedish steamships recently received an increase of 150 per cent in wages.

Nearly 28 per cent of the factory workers in India are employed in cotton and spinning and weaving mills.

The strike of a century of officials at Cairo, Egypt, which has been going on for some time is over and work has been resumed.

Thousands of teachers are joining organized labor, according to officials of the American Federation of Labor and the National Women's Trade Union league.

Telephone communication throughout most of New England except Connecticut was suspended by a strike of operators of the New England Telephone and Telegraph company and the Providence Telephone company. In Boston and other cities the operators quit work and the wires became dead.

The union demands include pay increases and the right of collective bargaining.

Three hundred and fifty machinists at the Bock bearing plant, a branch of the Standard Parts company, Cleveland, went on strike. The men originally struck last October for higher wages, but returned to work when their case was appealed to the war labor board. A hearing by an agent of the board was held two weeks ago and no decision has been given. The company at the hearing declared that since it was not engaged in war work the government could no longer take any action.

The Builders' league of Macon, Ga., has adopted a new scale of wages to be paid after April 14, which is designed to "stabilize" prices of labor. Rather than pay a flat rate to all workmen, regardless of their capabilities, the league now proposes to pay according to the following sliding scale: Carpenters, 30 to 60 cents per hour; brick masons, 40 to 60 cents; plasterers, 40 to 60 cents; common laborers, 15 to 25 cents. The workers declare this represents a reduction in wages, and they are preparing to contest the new scale.

Lancashire (Eng.) mills and looms are idle while the world is clamoring for cotton goods, says the Manchester correspondent of the London Daily Mail, which adds that crowds of unemployed demonstrated in front of the Manchester town hall. Mill owners have been criticized, but the real trouble, the correspondent says, is that customers cannot afford to pay the prevailing high charges. Unemployment in the county is rapidly reaching a climax. Men are coming out of the army and are said to be unable to get the work which was promised them.

Labor troubles are growing at Terre Haute, Ind. Machinists and blacksmiths are striking at American Car and Foundry company for an eight-hour day, a half-day Saturday and time and one-half for overtime. Two hundred machinists at the Pennsylvania railroad yards quit work because a union man was discharged for failing to work Saturday, and 200 more are expected to walk out. More than 100 painters and paperhangers struck, while other building crafts had ordered a strike for May 1 unless increased pay is granted by contractors.

The strike of 4,500 employees of the Public Service Railway company, which tied up trolley service in northern New Jersey for four days, was formally called off, with both sides claiming victory. The terms of settlement, which were approved by a virtually unanimous vote of the strikers, provided that the company treat with any authorized committee of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees of America, at the same time reserving the right to treat with any other employees' organization; that the company's co-operative league and collective bargaining plan, opposed by the men, be withdrawn and that all other points of dispute be submitted to the national war labor board. The terms were suggested by the war labor board.

Seven thousand carters and freight handlers went on strike at Montreal for higher wages, virtually suspending vehicular freight traffic on the streets. The painters and decorators of the city also struck for a 50-hour week and a wage increase.

The National Industrial council, sitting in London, was notified by Premier Lloyd George that a bill was being drafted to carry out the recommendation of the council for a 48-hour week. The premier added that a commission also would be set up to give effect to the principle of a minimum wage.
